Assistant Editor f/m/d

We are in one of the most dynamic periods in our history as technology, globalism and economic diversity create far-reaching changes in the world. As a learning business, Wiley makes meaningful contributions to research discovery and lifelong learning by helping organizations achieve their goals and people achieve success from education through their career. We may have been founded over two centuries ago, but our secret to success remains the same: change with the times and adapt to meet the ever-evolving needs of our customers. The company's headquarters are located in Hoboken, New Jersey, with operations in the U.S., Europe, Asia, Australia, and Canada.

Interested in a career in scientific publishing? The Wiley-VCH Chemistry Journals group is looking for an

Assistant Editor (f/m/d)

About the role

As an Assistant Editor, you will be involved in all aspects of the editorial process, such as peer review of submissions, development of journal content, editing of manuscripts, and contacts with authors from all over the world.

What you'll need to succeed?

- Applicants for this entry-level position should have an academic qualification (preferably a PhD) in chemistry or materials science with an emphasis on energy research (e.g., batteries, electrocatalysis, fuel cells, photocatalysis, solar cells, supercapacitors, water splitting).
- Fluency in English is required (native speaker or equivalent).
- Applicants must be self-motivated, have excellent organizational, time-management, and communication skills (spoken and written), be diplomatic, and be flexible.
- Familiarity with text and graphics computer applications, as well as social media, is required. A good understanding of the journal publication process (for example, as an author or reviewer) would be an advantage but previous publishing experience is not required as full training will be provided.

The Editorial Office is based at Wiley-VCH in Weinheim, a pleasant small town near Heidelberg in southwest Germany. We offer competitive financial and career rewards, training and career development. This position is initially limited to 12 months.

At Wiley, we welcome you for who you are, the background you bring, and embrace individuals who get excited about learning whether online or by book. Learning is for everyone, and so is our workplace. Bring your experiences, your perspectives, and your passion. It's in our differences that we empower the way the world learns.

Wiley is a diverse, global organization and we are proud to be an Equal Opportunity Employer.
